MAN WITH $100 DEAD IN BARN

On Way from Near Abbottstown to Old Folks' Home in New Jersey, Unfortunate Dies during the Night.

A man found dead in the barn on the farm of John B. Seitz, near Rohertown, on Sunday, is supposed to be James Casey, of near Abbottstown, and his identity can be said to be pretty fully established.

The man found in the Seitz barn was between 55 and 60 years old, had sandy hair, was thin and smooth faced, which answers exactly to the description of Casey.

Casey, according to officials of the Thomasville plant, left that place about the middle of last week. He told friends that he was going to New Jersey, where it is known that he had purchased a place in an old people's home for $500. Before leaving he said that he was going to take another $150 to the home. This money he had with him on leaving his home.

On Wednesday night of last week a man, giving his name as Cassidy, stopped at the Columbia police station over night. In the morning he told Chief Campbell he was going to the St. Joseph's hospital, Lancaster. He went to that institution, but on Saturday morning complained, and the attendants told him, it is said, that he had better go to the county home. He left the institution.

On Saturday night a stranger appeared at the Seitz farm and was given shelter in the barn. He left a package with one of the household. Sunday morning he was found dead. In the package it was discovered there was $100.

According to advice from Abbottstown Casey came to this section from New Jersey about 15 years ago, and has been returning in the summer, leaving for the winter. He is supposed to have two sons and a daughter living in New Jersey.

TO PLAY FLUTE FOR 32ND YEAR

Larry Diehlman will not give up Beautiful Custom of Ushering in Christmas with Music at Father's Grave.

In the quiet hours of the night, coming as a solo for which it might seem all other music had been stilled, "Adeste Fideles," will at the stroke of twelve Christmas morning burst forth from a flute, for whose sound the dwellers in the picturesque region around Mount St. Mary's College, near Emmitsburg, are accustomed to listen at the beginning of Christmas.

So at his father's grave for thirty one years has Lawrence Diehlman ushered each Christmas morning, and paid a tribute of music to his father, Dr. Henry Casper Diehlman, who was for half a century instructor in music at Mount St. Mary's College.

"Rain, snow or shine, I'll be there, God willing," said "Larry" Diehlman, in talking with a reporter.

Many changes have taken place since Larry began his Christmas custom. The old Mount St. Mary's church, worshipping place of the early settlers in this interesting Catholic community, was abandoned some years ago and has been destroyed by fire. The college, nearby, from a modest beginning has grown to be a great institution with splendid buildings. Hundreds of students have come and gone. Most of them have known Larry as the kindly keeper of the modest store on the roadside. Many of them, remaining at the college over the holidays, have heard him play the "Adeste Fideles" on Christmas morning, and the story of the beautiful way in which he keeps trust with his father has been carried throughout the country.

Now Larry himself has gone from the mountainside. During the past several weeks he has sold at auction his household goods and what store of merchandise he had, and moved from the old log cabin in which he "kept house" to Thurmont, 10 miles away, to spend the remaining years of his life with his nieces.

But he has no thought of failing to keep his Christmas trust.

AFTER MR. SELIGMAN

Latest Story on Minister's Controversy at Mont Alto.

According to the Chambersburg "Valley Spirit" the troubles of Rev. Will M. Seligman are not yet at an end. It says:

"It was reported to-day, on not indirect authority, that application is to be made for the swearing in of Mike Deheny and Billy O'Neil as special officers at White Pine sanatorium. These appointments, so rumor ran, are to be made with the view of strengthening the forces to oppose Rev. Mr. Seligman upon his next camp visitation. These men are stout sanatorium trustees. Deheny has rendered Jim McNichol efficient service in political work in Philadelphia and O'Neil has read some standard works on the use of 'dukes' as peace arbitrators."

U. B. SERVICE

SAVED DROWNING BOY WITH LASSO

Pulled from Dam after Clinging to Broken Ice for Fifteen Minutes. Rescue Made in Style Fit for the Screen.

Hanging onto the edge of a sheet of ice and with his feet and body dangling in thirteen feet of icy water in the dam of the Thurmont Power Company, Charles Jones, the 12 year old son of Mrs. B. M. Jones, Thurmont, was on Tuesday afternoon saved from drowning by Frank Harne.

The rescue had all the thrills of an up-to-date moving picture story of adventure and hair-breadth escapes. Young Jones ventured on the dam merely for the fun of testing the ice. He walked on a weak section, which gave way beneath his weight. As the youth shot toward the bottom of the dam, he flung his hands outward, grasping the jagged edge of the broken ice. The ice surrounding the hole held.

Then he began to scream with such vigor that the neighborhood rang. No companions had accompanied him on his trip to the dam. The nearest house was half a mile distant.

About 15 minutes after Jones had fallen into the pond Frank Harne, accompanied by his brother, Albert Harne, of Foxville, driving in a buggy, neared the pond. Harne heard the screams of the youngster.

With the assurance of a man who had daily encountered such incidents, Frank Harne quickly released a rein from the harness of the horse, fashioned a lasso and walked to the edge of the dam. Cautiously but quickly the man walked over the ice toward the youth who gave indications of exhaustion and of relinquishing his grasp on the ice. Harne continued until the ice threatened to break. Then he flung out the temporary lasso, cowboy fashion. It settled over the boy's neck with the first throw. The rein was pulled taut, and with a sudden lunge the youth was pulled swiftly from the water to safety.

Young Jones was taken to the home of his grandmother, Mrs. John Jones, a short distance away. While exhausted from long exposure in the water, the youth made a quick recovery.

Frank Harne recently returned from Idaho and the State of Washington. He brought with him his wife and two children and intends to make his home in Frederick county.

PREPARING TO COLLECT TAXES

First of the Year will See Many Local Business People Confronted by Measure. Small Dealers will have to Pay.

Several hundred business houses in Adams County are concerned in the announcement that the internal revenue office for the Ninth District of which this county is a part, is busily engaged in getting matters in shape for the payment of special taxes, which are due January 1, 1916. The extension of this act continues the tax upon retail dealers in tobacco, cigar and tobacco manufacturers, leaf tobacco dealers, proprietors of pool and billiard rooms, theatres, circuses, etc., brokers and commission merchants.

There are almost ten thousand persons and firms in this district liable for some one of these taxes, paying in the neighborhood of $125,000 annually, and the work of sending out the blank forms to each taxpayer is no little matter.

All taxes paid before January 31, 1916, will not incur any penalty, but payments made on or after February 1, 1916, will require 50 per cent penalty. The taxes to be collected at this time are for a six months period only and the amounts payable are as follows:

Dealers in tobacco, $2.40; manufacturers of cigars, $1.50 to $600; manufacturers of tobacco, $3.00 to $600; dealers in leaf tobacco, $3 to $12; proprietors pool tables and bowling alleys, (per alley or table), $2.50; proprietors theatres, etc., $5 to $50; bankers, for each $1,000 invested capital, 50 cents.

EXPECT GAIN OF THREE MILLIONS

Rapidly Growing Business of the Western Maryland Makes Large Figure of Receipts a Probability. The Causes.

Like a snowball rolling down hill, the gross earnings of the Western Maryland railway increase as they gather momentum. To date the momentum is such as to show an increase in gross from June 30 to $972,606 over the corresponding period of 1914. In other words, for the five months and two weeks of the current fiscal year an advance close to $1,000,000 in gross is recorded. When it is remembered that this is done by single track road, much of which is on a grade to the Alleghenies, it is considered remarkable.

It is fair to assume that the gross for the year ending June 30 next will be about $3,000,000 ahead of the preceding year. This is easily calculated. The figures given above are up to December 14. The remaining two weeks of this month will, taking the first two weeks as a sample, approximate an increase in the gross of easily $90,000. The first two weeks of December showed a gain in gross of $91,047, and with this amount double for the four weeks, December will show a gain in gross around $182,000, or a total gain in gross for the first half of the fiscal year of about $1,150,000.

Merely by doubling the last given figure would make the year's gain in gross, higher than $2,300,000, this of course, on the assumption that the ratio of increase will continue as indicated. It is expected to do materially better than what has already been attained. There are sure-fire indications of increase in volume tonnage, not merely along lines now existing, but within a few weeks the Helens Run spur will be in operation, tapping eight of the largest mines in the Consolidated Coal Company's field in West Virginia, which will contribute emphatically to the increase in gross earnings.

It is assumed that there will be no further reduction in expense items by the Western Maryland, for it would be impossible to pare down further. On the other hand, it is felt that there will be no increase in expense items, so that normal conditions will obtain as to outlay for maintenance, etc.

WHISKY BLINDS HIM.

But Man Recovers $7,500, Saying It Was Wood Alcohol.

For the almost total loss of his sight Henry P. Eysink of Baltimore was awarded $7,500 by a jury against Lee Sonnborn, a jobber in whisky, and Vincent Finocchio, a saloon keeper.

Eysink, who sued for $50,000, became partly blind after drinking whisky, he said, in Finocchio's saloon. He said he could not see anything directly in front of him and that at angles he could discern objects only indistinctly. The liquor, it was claimed, had been diluted with wood alcohol.

The suit originally included a disfiguring company, whose brand Eysink drank. Counsel for the company succeeded in having it relieved of liability, and the case proceeded against the other defendants.

BAGDAD REGION IS BARREN. CHEERLESS SWAMP LAND.

Armies Fighting In Far South Face a Dreary Campaign.

"The country between Bagdad and Basra, on the Tigris, in which stretch of Mesopotamia the British expeditionaries and the Turks have carried on a varying campaign for months, is as cheerless as any that could be imagined, dreary, flat, sun glazed plains and vast, desolate swamps," according to a statement on war geography just given out by the National Geographic society. "The Tigris pursues a lazy course through these tedious lowlands. To the right and left stretch barren plains of baked clay as far as the eye can reach, offering no advantages for defense. The reed choked swamps lie in between, while the dull brown Arab villages straggle through plain and swamp alike, with indifferent impartiality as to the disadvantages of both."

"World weariest flocks and occasional Arabs constitute the sole life of the lower Tigris plain. The shimmering heat beats the clay soil with deep cracks in every direction and makes the thick yellow river appear like a stream of molten metal. This is the southern end of Mesopotamia, down to the junction of the Tigris and the Euphrates at Shat-el-Arab, whence mile after mile of dreary marsh takes the place of the dreary plains. Throughout the marsh country communication between villages is carried on by means of rush boats. In the springtime of Mesopotamia's history it was all a garden land, a country compelling the stranger's admiration for its fruitfulness and beauty."

"Kut-el-Amara, well down the river, was, at least for this region, a thriving port before the war, and large shipments of grain were sent from here. This surplus grain was grown in abundance somewhere on the apparently arid plains, which, if irrigated once more as in ancient times, might be an agricultural supply spot for the leading markets of the world. The old canals which carried water to the plains have fallen into decay, and in most cases their markings have been leveled by time beyond all recognition."

FLETCHER HAS GOOD RECORD.

Man Whom Wilson Wants to Send to Mexico an Experienced Diplomat.

Henry Prather Fletcher of Pennsylvania, who has been nominated to be the new American ambassador to Mexico, will fill the post that was vacated when Henry Lane Wilson was recalled two years ago, when General Huerta was executive head of the Mexican government.

Mr. Fletcher has been the American ambassador to Chile since Oct. 1, 1914, where he had been serving as minister since 1909. He is a lawyer by profession, served in the army in Cuba in 1898 and for two years as first lieutenant and battalion adjutant of the Fortieth infantry. His home is Chambersburg, Pa.

After more than a decade of service in the American foreign service Mr. Fletcher is today regarded as being one of the able men of the corps. He began his diplomatic service in 1902 as second secretary of the legation at Havana, was transferred to Peking as second secretary the following year and became secretary of the American legation at Lisbon in 1905. In 1907 he returned to Peking as secretary of legation and two years later was appointed minister to Chile.

INDIAN PRINCESS IN FAMILY

Family Is Traced Back to the Year 1236—First to Land in Virginia Was Robert Bolling, Who Came to America in 1660—Pocahontas Ancestry Revealed.

The genealogical tree of the new mistress of the White House, Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, dates not only to Pocahontas, the Indian princess of 1617, but to the ancestral Bolling estates in Yorkshire, England, of the thirteenth century.

Pocahontas, daughter of the famous Indian chief Powhatan, born in 1595, married April 5, 1613, in Jamestown, Va., as second wife, John Rolfe, of an old Norfolk family, who was baptized at Heseham, Norfolk, England, on May 6, 1585. Their only child, Thomas, was born in 1615 in Jamestown, Va. John Rolfe and Pocahontas, with their baby boy, arrived in Plymouth, England, from Virginia in the ship George on June 12, 1616. Various accounts describe the reception accorded Pocahontas, her presentation at court, her presence at the Globe theater when the "Tempest" was played, the ball given by the bishop of London, the Twelfth Night masque and the final act in the drama of this young life, "which was so short and yet long enough to unite two hemispheres, two races, two civilizations."

Mrs. Wilson's genealogy follows:

Use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here's Gettysburg testimony.

Verify it if you wish:

John J. Tawney, 234 Baltimore St., Gettysburg, says: "I suffered off and on from rheumatic pains and kidney ailments. My back ached constantly and often in the morning I was so lame and stiff that I could hardly get out of bed. The kidney action was irregular. Someone advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a supply at The People's Drug Store. I was surprised at the quick relief I got. I am not bothered by rheumatic pains now and I am much better in every way."

OVER TWO YEARS LATER Mr. Tawney said: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills, in fact I always keep them in the house. I know that if I take a few as soon as I have any symptoms of kidney trouble, I will be saved a great deal of suffering."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Tawney has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

TRY THIS IF HAIR STARTS FALLING

Some Good Advice For Those Threatened With Baldness.

At this season of the year many people find their hair coming out at an alarming rate and often fear baldness. This may very easily be the ultimate result if proper scalp treatment is not taken at once. All excessive loss of hair can be almost immediately stopped by the use twice daily of a little Parisian Sage which invigorates and nourishes the slowly dying hair roots into a renewal of healthy normal action. New hair quickly grows on the thin spots, old hair stops falling and the difference is apparent in a few days by the very look of the hair itself taking on new life, lustre and beauty. Parisian Sage can be obtained from The People's Drug Store or any good druggist. It is not expensive.

MOTHERS OPPOSE SONS' ENLISTING

One Scotchwoman Locked Boy In Tiny Closet.

CANVASSER TELLS TROUBLES

Encountered Many Original and Unique Excuses—However, Some Wives
Were Glad to Have Their Husbands
Go, Saying They Were No Good Around Home.

For several weeks army canvassers were busy recruiting throughout Scotland. In the northern counties, especially Aberdeenshire, the harvest reaped was highly satisfactory. However, there are still some hanging back.
Many of these are not afraid to don khaki, rather it is home influences and the persuasion of sweethearts that are at the back of excuses put forward.
One of the official canvassers relates his difficulties as follows:

"Your reasons for not enlisting? I have put that question to hundreds of men. The most humorous experience I had was when I knocked at the door of a tidy room and kitchen house in Rugby. There was one name on my list, and I was told by the mother that the owner had cleared out.

"Escapes in Time to Enlist.
"I, Minnie, when white's come over John," she said, "He's no fear the lak' the shillin', but he's no sleep here for three nights past. What can I do, mister?"

"When I was endeavoring to enter up the facts in my book a muffled voice came from somewhere inside the dwelling.
"Stop that, mister," it said, "and tell the man I'm gaun to Jne."
"Then there came from the lobby a sheepish looking young fellow. His mother had tried to lock him up in a closet, but he had managed to get free.
She admitted herself defeated, and her parting words were:

"Weel, he'll make a grand soldier if ye tell the drill sergeant to smarten him up a bit."

"We've Lost Two Already."
"Many other parents tried to stand as a barrier between their sons and myself.
"My boy really wants to join," one mother said to me, "but we've lost two already. One died in Gallipoli from dysentery, and the other was killed in France. Can they not leave one of them at home?"

"Another parent was wroth in regard to the separation allowance. She complained that it was months before a woman she knew got the money due her.

"One visit was to a house where a single young man lived. He abruptly told me that I could find his reason for not enlisting 'next door.' That, of course, could not be accepted as a satisfactory reply, but I was curious and without further talk knocked at the next door, where his sweetheart lived.

"There were four young men, and three of them happened to be at home.
All said they refused to enlist because they objected to warfare, and they weren't going to sacrifice their principles. I found not a few cases of this kind on my round of calls.

"If I enlist who's going to pay the rent? one householder demanded, 'and the wife has been ailing for months.
I can't afford to join, but if the government likes to see the factor squared I'll join tomorrow.'

Glad to Get Rid of Husbands.
"Many women boldly told me to take away their husbands.
"He's me use here, and, forbye, I'll get steady money when he 'lists," said one woman.

"Many young men were angry because the doctor refused to pass them.
"What's wrong with me? a sturdy lad inquired. The doctor says one of my toes is twisted and wouldn't stand the marching. All nonsense, I say, and when I tried to join the motor section it was full up."

REGAINS SIGHT AS WIFE DIES.

Submits to Operation for a Last Impression, but Too Late.

For ten years life was pleasant to R.
W. Laughlin in his home at Escondido Cal., although he was blind. He and his wife, formerly of Kenton, O., feared that an operation to remove a cataract would be unsuccessful in spite of assurances from specialists that it would restore his sight.

Nearly a month ago Mrs. Laughlin, seventy-two years old, suddenly became seriously ill and was told she had but a short time to live. The husband, fearful that he never would see her again, submitted to an operation.
Meanwhile he was not told of his wife's condition.

Later the bandages were removed from his eyes, and his blindness was at an end. He was taken into an adjoining room to see his wife. She had been dead two days.

To Save the "Rebel Yell." Preservation of the famous "rebel yell" for posterity was authorized by the annual convention of the Texas Daughters of the Confederacy, when they voted to have the yell recorded on phonograph records. It is proposed to have the records made by a group of Confederate veterans.

Romance

Tell me a tale of the pinnacles.
Or else of a sailor bold,
Sing me a song of Spanish doubloons,
And whisper of hidden gold.

I'm sick to my soul of social vice,
And of votes for women, too;
The cost of buying a pound of rice
And what will our congress do.

Away with all that's timely and new,
Forget the turkey trot dance,
Eugenist, scientist, banish the crew!
And quaff me the cup, romance!

So let's go sailing over the sea
In search of adventures far,
Hail on all who come to Arcady, Where our childhood's heroes are.

Let's run in Sherwood with Robin's band
And meet with Marian the White, Find Friday's footsteps upon the sand
And just for our ladies eyes.

Tell me a tale of knights of the road,
Or else of a Chinese junk,
Sing me a song of jewels that glowed,
Whisper of galleons sunk.

We'll go in quest of the fleece of gold,
Or fight for the fame of Rome,
And not till we've drained those days of old.

Will we turn reluctant home,
—Grace M. Peters in Collier's Weekly.

LETTER FROM THE GRAVE OF YOUNG FRENCH OFFICER

Message of Comfort to His Widowed Mother Delivered After His Death.

The following letter, written by her son, a young Abbaton officer in the French army, with the direction that it should be delivered only in the event of his death, has been received by Mme. Wurtz, who occupied a humble post in the service of the state railways. It was published in the Temps of Paris.

My Dear Little Mother—I hope that you will never receive this letter, for if it comes to you it will mean that I have gone to join grandfather and my dear little brother.

This idea of death does not frighten me in the least. If I fail to die for France and in the performance of my duty, like so many others at this moment. It is only about you that I am troubled, and I say to myself: "What will poor mother do?" If I die, this is what you must do. In the first place, you must be calm and remain so. You must keep all your self-control, and must not run out in the street crying out your sorrow. Your grief must be calm and dignified. Then you must go to father's grave at Luche-Thouars and tell him that his two sons have died doing their duty and that his son-in-law has done as much.

Father will be happy to know that his big Rodolphe and his little Emile have fallen on the field of honor. You will tell him, too, that Rodolphe has won his epaulets and that he fell at the head of his men, with his face to the foe. He will be pleased, poor father, and you, dear mother, will have the satisfaction of having given birth to honest men, whatever some people have said. You will return to your work at the Chef-Boutonne station, and you will stay there until the day when you make up your mind that you have worked long enough and are tired enough to take your rest. You will go back to your own country, to Alsace, more France, and you will say to yourself that if you are in Thann or Strassburg, it is because your sons have done their part to restore our dear provinces to France. How sweet that thought will be to your heart! It will be a consolation in your old age. I want you always to be happy and full of courage. Sacrifice cheerfully accepted, joy in resignation, these make us strong.

You must put far from you all resentment against any one. You must not be envious of the mothers who have kept their children. If sometimes you are moved to complain, when you see the comrades of my brother and myself reflect that your sons suffer no more and that their glorious death is far better than the miserable existence of those who remain. You promise, don't you?

If I do not return you will tell yourself that the last thoughts of your big boy were of you and my sister Blanche, and that from the paradise of the brave I will watch over both of you. Kisses to you, then, and a strong heart and good counsel in life as well as in death.

Your big boy who loves you dearly, RODOLPHE WURTZ.

WAR'S COST $38,800,000,000.

British Take $120,000,000 of Latest French Loan.

Jules Roche said recently in the French chamber of deputies that the war has cost Europe 194,000,000,000 francs ($38,800,000,000), that France's share of this has been 26,000,000,000 francs ($5,200,000,000) and that her enemies have spent 47,000,000,000 francs, or $9,400,000,000.

These figures were mentioned in the course of the debate on the granting of a three months' credit on the budget account for the first six months of 1916. The chamber voted the credits asked for. There was only one dissenting voice.

M. Ribot, the minister of finance, said that the expenditures for France at the beginning of the war had been $200,000,000 a month, but that they had increased to $420,000,000 a month.
He mentioned the recent French national loan and said that subscriptions to this loan from London alone amounted to $120,000,000. He could give no total figures of the results of the loan yet, he said, but the country had responded to the call and never had there been so large a number of subscribers.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS

EVERY THREE MINUTES ONE DIES IN THE U. S.

The Anti-Tuberculosis Society illustrates the frightful toll of consumption by extinguishing a light every three minutes, and shows that it is the man or woman, girl or boy, who neglects colds, whose blood is impure, who feels weak and languid, who is the very one to contract tuberculosis—and none are immune.

During changing seasons, or after sickness, blood-quality is most important, and if you and your family will take Scott's Emulsion after meals it will charge your blood with health-sustaining richness, quicken circulation, and strengthen both lungs and throat.
Scott's is free from alcohol—easy to take—it cannot harm. Get a bottle today.

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, sniffing, mucous discharge, headache, dizziness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.
Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief.
Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.

STOMACH MISERY QUICKLY VANISHES

Your money back if you want it is the way in which The People's Drug Store, the popular druggists are selling Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy.

This is an unusual plan, but Mi-o-na has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that they run but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia.
Mi-o-na will help you. If it doesn't, tell The People's Drug Store that you want your money back and they will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mi-o-na and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mi-o-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What fairer proposition could be made?

The People's Drug Store give their personal guarantee of "money back if you want it" with every box of Mi-ona that they sell. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.
